

Injury Prevention Network

The Injury Prevention Network is sponsored by the Division of Injury and Violence Prevention at the Virginia Department of Health

The Injury Prevention Network (IPN) is a group of injury prevention professionals and stakeholders of public and private organizations dedicated to reducing unintentional injuries and deaths throughout Virginia. Network members meet periodically to share information and resources, to spotlight their organizational activities and best practices in injury prevention, and to discuss needs and collaborative opportunities on the local and State level. Network members also utilize direct mail and electronic mail as forums to communicate directly with other members throughout the Commonwealth.

Benefits to Membership:

- up-to-date injury prevention information and resources
- funding opportunities
- forum to publicize events
- spotlight best practices/successes
- access to current data to support funding proposals or activities
- training and conference information
- collaboration with other injury prevention professionals
- opportunity to help develop statewide injury prevention plan
